November 21, 1896.

Mr. Robert Weaver, Pres.

Columbus, Miss.

Dear Doctor:-

As I am leaving this morning, and have not heard further from Jennie concerning the visit to Atlanta, I send her by express to-day thirty dollars to be used for the expenses of the trip, and for such little things as she may need especially before leaving. I have directed her to ask you to take charge of her money and pay her bills, except what small amounts she may require for spending money. If anything is left, please place it to her credit for board. If she should not go, then please place the whole amount to the credit of the board account, except what little amount she may wish to retain for spending money. I dislike to trouble you with this, but hope you can attend to it without serious inconvenience.

Dr., I would be very glad, indeed if you can arrange to take Miss Kate Ash into the dormitory, and make her as comfortable as possible. I feel that I am responsible for her being there, as I think I induced her mother to send her. She informs me that Kate is suffering more or less with rheumatism, and being away from the dormitory is worse for her; and based on, if she were there under the care of our Miss Ruffie, I think she would be better satisfied. Miss Kate has long been my close neighbor, is very fond of me, and I do not think it necessary to make any further explanation of my interest in her welfare; I feel that way towards all our girls.

Very truly yours,
